DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of invention shown in Fig. 11 in the reply filed on 5/18/2004 is acknowledged and made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by YADAV et al. (6,391,044).

As to claims 1-2, YADAV (Fig. 14-15 and 21, for example) shows elongate wire 164/250, filter membrane 170/260 having a distal portion and a proximal free end portion, deploying means/control mechanism/sleeve 180/270 as recited in the claims.

Art Unit: 3731

As to claim 3, YADAV (Fig. 21) shows filter membrane 260 having rounded sections.

As to claims 6-10, YADAV (Fig. 14-15) inherently discloses a method of using the filter device as recited in the claims.

As to claims 4-5, YADAV (col. 6, lines 3-5) discloses pore size of the filter membrane in a range of 20-300 microns.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over YADAV et al. (6,391,044).

As to claims 11-14, YADAV discloses substantially the structural limitations of the instant invention. YADAV does not explicitly disclose the device for use in an angioplasty procedure at location in a carotid vessel or a coronary vessel. However, the use of a vascular filter in an angioplasty procedure at a location in a carotid vessel or a coronary vessel is well known in the art to prevent a blockage/obstruction of a blood flow. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use YADAV filter in a carotid vessel or a coronary vessel so as one can filter/trap small pieces/particles broken from a blood vessel wall during an angioplasty procedure to prevent a blockage/obstruction of a blood flow.

Response to Amendment

The argument filed on 11/11/2004 under 37 CFR 1.131 has been considered but is ineffective to overcome the YADAV-'044 reference.

The Applicants assert that YADAV -'044 does not teach or suggest a filter system wherein the free end of the filter membrane "has a generally scalloped shape" as required by both independent claims 1 and 6.

However, in comparison of Fig. 11 of the present invention to Fig. 14-15 and especially Fig. 21 of Yadav-'044, it is reasonable to conclude that at least Yadav filters shown in Fig. 14-15 and 21, for example, include "a general scallop shape". Therefore, the above rejection is applicable to the claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
